

THEIR DECISION LED TO THE STOP OF THE BOMB-SCARE BUSINESS: In the public schools. Town Officials photographed a couple of weeks ago, after their decision to take stern measures to stop senseless bomb-scares, in the public schools. The steps outlined in that decision have led to the stoppage of the scares. In front are Wilmington's Chief of Police, Paul J. Lynch, Town Manager Sterling C. Morris and Fire Chief Arthur Boudreau. In the rear are Inspector John Harvey of the Wilmington Police, Town Counsel Alan Altman and Superintendent of Schools Walter Pierce.

TOWN NIXES ROBERTS ESTATE

Voters said No with a capital 'N' Saturday to the School Committee's plans for a new high school in Wilmington.

Three hundred and fifty-nine townsmen turned thumbs down on Article Two of the Special Town Meeting Warrant for the acquisition of the Roberts Estate as a school building site during the early stages of the five-and-a-half-hour long meeting.

The negative vote followed a dramatic debate of more than an hour between members of the School Committee and the other committees and citizens opposed to the site.

Planning Board requests further USDA Soil Surveys

The Special Town Meeting is over, but the memory lingers on, and so the Planning Board is already looking ahead to the next Town Meeting in March.

Chairman Bill Hooper suggested at Tuesday night's meeting that the Board request the USDA Soil Conservation Commission conduct studies of five other possible school sites.

Included in these would be the present high school property and the Allen property. The other sites were not named.

Hooper expressed hope that at least three of the soil surveys would be completed before winter snows hamper the studies.

The Board approved of the proposal and decided to send a letter to the Soil Conservation Commission requesting the surveys.

On the subject of school construction, Mort Grant made reference to a newspaper story on the upcoming Chelmsford Town Meeting.

He pointed out that in that town the School Committee was submitting seven articles encompassing several alternatives for the construction of a new high school.

The estimated figures for the alternative proposals ranged from $13 million for a 2400-student building, to $7 million for a 1200-student school.

He added that the proposal in Wilmington for a new 1600-student building was $13 million.

Bill Hanlon commented on the Chelmsford figures saying "they'll probably use cardboard", which seemed to indicate he didn't think much of the estimated figures.

FRED CAIN FILES FOR ICE SKATING RINK

State Representative Fred F. Cain filed legislation last week to construct a state ice skating rink in Wilmington.

Cain's bill will be acted upon by the State Legislature in the next legislative session which convenes in January.

As proposed, the State Dept. of Natural Resources would be authorized and directed to "construct and maintain a fully enclosed ice skating rink in the Town of Wilmington."

In commenting on his action, Rep. Cain stated that he filed the legislation in response to the many requests for such a facility which were received in response to the questionnaire mailed to Wilmington families in October.

Cain said that the number of families who returned the questionnaire "far exceeded all expectations." He further indicated that he hoped to complete the tabulations of answers and report publicly on the over-all results in the near future.

'Bomb-Scare' Pair Arrested

It is no secret in Wilmington that the telephones in the public schools have been under electronic surveillance for some days now, as a result of the bomb-scares.

And a telephone call, last Friday, resulted in a speedy arrest of two young people, charged with making that call. Both are free on bail, but have to appear in Woburn court on Monday morning.

Arrested in Wilmington last Friday, and arraigned in Woburn Court on a charge of telephoning a bomb-scare, were a Lowell youth and a Wilmington girl, both about 18 years old.

They were arrested in a private home in North Wilmington within minutes of the last telephoned bomb-threat to Wilmington High School.

Both are free on bail, and are scheduled to appear in Woburn Court on Monday, for a hearing on the charges.

And, while the bomb-scare business seems to have stopped in the schools, it had a slight interruption yesterday (Wednesday) in one of Wilmington's industrial plants. A telephone call to the management announced that the building was the site of a bomb, ready to go off at any moment.

Some business-men connected with the company theorize that the call from one of the employees who was trying to get an extra day's vacation over the Thanksgiving holiday.

SEN. MacKENZIE FILES BILL TO HELP ELDERLY

Provisions of a law passed in 1969 which barred certain elderly homeowners from qualifying for real estate tax abatements will be removed by a bill filed this week with the Legislature by Senator Ronald C. MacKenzie of Burlington.

Under the MacKenzie bill, personal property will be removed as a consideration in allowing tax abatements to those over 70 years of age. The elderly will be allowed to own real estate assessed up to $30,000 as against $20,000 in 1969.

Legislation was filed in the closing days of the 1970 Legislation Session to correct the inequity, but while it was passed by the Senate, it was not admitted in the House.

"This is corrective legislation since it was never the intent of the Legislature to penalize any over-70-homeowners, and will apply to taxed applicable for 1971 and subsequent years," Senator MacKenzie stated.

AVCO BASKETBALL CHAMPS TO PLAY IN BOSTON GARDEN

The Avco Varsity Basketball Team will meet the Industrial All-Stars in a preliminary game to the Boston Celtics-Seattle Sonics clash on Wednesday, December 9th at the Boston Garden. The Avco game begins at 6:15 followed by the Celtics at 8:00.

Letters

Dear Sir:

We would like to use this method to bring to the attention of the town and it's residents that at the recent Special Town Meeting mention was made of a report, on the needs of the school system, which the residents of the Town were supposed to have received.

However, we and many of our friends, did not receive this notice, and upon inquiring found that it had been sent homw with the school children.

This report was not received by many taxpayers among those who 1) have no children 2) have only pre-schoolers and 3) have only grown children. This notice also was not available at the Special Town Meeting.

With information as important as this we think that efforts should have been made to see that this report reached all the taxpayers in Wilmington, and not just a certain group, even if this group is in a majority.

Sincerely yours,
Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rich

To the Residents of Wilmington:

Recently political advertisements inadvertently listed the names of members of the Board of Directors of the League of Women Voters of Wilmington. On behalf of the Board members and the League, I am taking this opportunity to inform you that apologies have been received by the board members and the League from the parties responsible for the erroneous listings.

In order to maintain the public acceptance of the Leagues nonpartisan policy, it is imperative that the officers and board members as the official representatives of League implement the nonpartisanship policy. Therefore, it became necessary to publicly acknowledge the apologies for the forementioned advertisements.

The members of the Board of Directors are expected to remain politically inactive, but informed, during their term on the Board. They do not publicize their convictions as far as candidates are concerned, do not sign nomination papers or serve on Democratic or Republican Town Committees. This is done in order to insure the nonpartisan method of operation of the League.

On behalf of the Board of Directors I am reaffirming their adherence to the nonpartisan policy of the League of Women Voters of Wilmington. The League may take action on issues that it has studied, but NEVER endorses or supports candidates running for public office.

Thank you,
Mrs. John A. Hensley, Pres.
League of Women Voters of Wilmington.

CARD OF THANKS

To the Voters of Wilmington, who were so kind to me at the Town Meeting, my most Sincere Thanks.

First HDZ Action at Selectmen's Meeting

Only two days after Town Meeting and already the force of High Density Zoning was making itself known.

David Piper of Burger Chef and Attorney Kneeland of General Foods Corp., which owns Burger Chef, appeared before the Board of Selectmen Monday night to hear their decision on an application for a victualers license.

The meeting was short and to the point.

Selectman Carl Backman Jr. who initiated the HDZ articles told the applicant what had happened at the Town Meeting and what it would mean in their case.

"The High Density articles were passed, including gas stations, garages, drive-in restaurants and restaurants. Your restaurant," Backman told Piper, "will fall into that part of the zoning."

"In addition to fulfilling the 200 foot frontage, you'd have to approach the Town Meeting to get the land zoned for the particular use you intend."

He further said that the victualers license was "a moot point at this time."

Atty. Kneeland asked "How can you force businesses into that zone?"

Backman replied that the zoning was by usage, that it was a "use zone" interspersed with General Business and Industrial Zones.

"You'll have to wait until spring to petition before the Town Meeting for a drive-in," he concluded.

Chairman Bruce MacDonald told the applicant that a copy of the new zoning laws would be forwarded to them as soon as they were printed.

Town Manager Sterling Morris addressed the Selectmen on plans for relocating Woburn Street.

"I'm looking for approval of the street which we'll call the Woburn St. Relocation, rather than Eames St. Extension, for planning purposes. We've got to decide if it'll solve our problems. I think it's a pretty good idea," he added.

The Woburn St. Relocation is one of two plans for providing better access to Lowell Street which is to be widened by the state next year. The DPW has urgently requested the Town to submit any plans for access roads to them before the project begins in the spring.

The Woburn St. plan was found preferable by the Selectmen and Town Engineer Arthur Harding to another plan for a West St. By-pass.

At the request of Selectmen James Banda and James Miceli, the Board went into a ten minute executive session to discuss the plan in conjunction with land damages.

Following the closed-door session, a motion by Banda for further exploration of the plans before granting approval was passed by the Board.

School Security

Chairman MacDonald read a letter to the Board from Supt. of Schools Walter Pierce requesting increased security measures for the schools. This request was in light of recent incidents of firebombings and vandalism at various buildings.

Morris added that the local Civil Defense Unit has volunteered to help out and is doing so by patrolling the school areas in cars with two-way radios.

Said the TM: "We'd like to invite alert citizens to help in the protection of Town-owned property." He complimented the CD on their efforts and said "we're looking for more volunteers to help them out."

Further discussions let to a remark by MacDonald that the schools were "poorly illuminated" and that the closing of Carter Lane made it difficult for passing motorists to keep an eye on the West Intermediate and Boutwell Schools.

In conjunction with the vandalism problem, the TM brought up the subject of insurance programs covering Town Property.

He felt that the present program should be investigated and expanded if necessary. Questions on the amount of coverage and premiums led to a decision by the Board to request the agent, Bedell Brothers Insurance Agency Inc., to attend the next meeting for a discussion of the situation.

Other Business

A letter was received from Rep. Fred Cain requesting the setting up of a speed zone on Salem St.

Selectman Miceli suggested that surveys and speed limits for other streets be discussed as well at a meeting between the Board and DPW. The date for the meeting has yet to be agreed upon.

Chairman MacDonald proposed an April Clean-up Day as last year and to invite all local youth groups and local school children to take part. The suggestion came about as a result of a letter from the local Boy Scout Troop seeking support for their Save Our American Resources (SOAR) program.

The date of the spring-cleaning will probably be a Saturday in early April.

Two applications were forwarded to the Board of Health for inspection and approval. One was submitted by Louis Carbone of 325 Main Street for a license to sell fish from the back of a truck, and the other from Jack Holloway, new owner of the Stop and Go Sandwich Shop in North Wilmington, for a victualers license.

A check for $695 was received from the State Commission on Law Enforcement as part of the reimbursement for Wilmington's share of the money paid for participation in the Action Program. This program entitled the local Police Department to a hookup with a computer in Boston and tied in with another such operation in Washington, giving the Town access to state and nationwide police information.

The teletype system was authorized by the voters last spring at Town Meeting.

It was suggested by Carl Backman that the Board request Chief Paul Lynch to attend the next meeting to discuss the problem of cleaning up some junk piles on Butters Row. Backman said the job of enforcing the laws relative to such eyesores should have been done sooner and wanted to know why the problem still existed.

DANNY COSMAN: And friend, which he caught recently, in a trip to York Beach, Maine. It was within two pounds of the record catch for cod, from York Beach.

Danny was supposed to have saved some steaks from this cod for his Thanksgiving Dinner.

TOWN MEETING
(From Fr. Page)

Article Three for preliminary plans of the proposed high school was passed over quickly once the preceding article had been defeated.

Two other articles which won approval from the voters were Articles One and Five for a regional drug program and High Density Zoning, respectively.

The debate on the Roberts Estate began with a presentation by Supt. of Schools, Walter Pierce in which he reviewed the School Committee's Total Building Program and showed aerial slides of the prospective sites.

He emphasized that the voters were being asked to vote only on the site and not the high school, adding that other proposals for plans and construction of the school would be brought up at a future Town Meeting.

Robert Michelson, chairman of the Permanent Building Committee, objected to the figures on site development presented by the School Committee.

Michelson said $500,000 for developing the site wasn't nearly enough and that "you could add one million to this, and this is not an unrealistic figure."

He stated that the original figure would be adequate for additional site work at the present high school, and that there would be no sewerage, sidewalk or water problems.

This corroborated the Finance Committee's report that the site was not suitable for building a school at a reasonable cost.

Further objections to the plan were voiced by Rod Laughton of the Finance Committee who said, in quoting an unnamed local party, that "building a school, there will be the most costly undertaking the Town of Wilmington ever undertook."

Laughton suggested locating the athletic facilities and fields elsewhere than adjacent to the high school so as to provide more land for expansion of the present building. He pointed out that this practice has been utilized in Lawrence with success.

Arthur Bureau of the Conservation Committee reported that group had inspected the Roberts Estate and found several drawbacks to the area.

His report was similar to the report made for the Planning Board by the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Commission. Large portions of the land were found to be wet, some areas mucky, and the soil was found to be poor for an on-site sewerage system.

Following Bureau's report and recommendation for disapproval of Article Two, Selectman James Miceli added that the Board of Selectmen was also opposed to the article's passage.

Zane Bower of 28 Nathan Rd., a consulting engineer said the plan should be turned down since the Town "can't get this job off the ground for two to three years" and costs will go up even more by then.

He said his main objection to the plan was that "We're not told the total cost of this project. Fifty dollars a square foot is outrageous," and he added that figures of $30 to $32 would be more reasonable.

He concluded by saying that the townspeople "don't want another Middlesex Courthouse right here."

Other arguments were heard from James Tighe of the Finance Committee who said in offering the committee's minority report that the costs involved in a new high school could be much higher if the Town waited too long to act.

Mrs. Barbara Hooper of the School Committee stated that the Roberts Estate offered the required amount of land as set by Massachusetts law for high schools. She explained that the law required 30 acres plus one acre for each 100 students.

In reference to the negative soil surveys, she said that all the sites in Wilmington have the same soil conditions as the Roberts Estate.

Arthur Smith of the Permanent Building Committee questioned the priorities of the projects and said that "sewerage systems are as essential as going for a gold-plated high school."

Mrs. Arthur CGosselin of 34 Allen Park Drive took the microphone to ask about other sites and why so little is heard about them.

Her question was answered by Dan Gillis of the Planning Board who replied that what she probably had in mind was "some land commonly called the Allen property located opposite Avco on Woburn Street."

He added that the Planning Board, as the other boards and committees, disapproved of the Roberts site.

Chris Bachman of the Finance Committee attempted to clear up some points by saying that the Allen property was mentioned more favorably in Prof. Eliot's School Sites Report as a possible location for a new school.

And priorities, for the projects, he explained, were set by computer. The computer facilities used were those of Avco.

Stan Webber of the Chamber of Commerce was also opposed to the Roberts Estate and mentioned another site, unnamed, which hadn't been discussed, and offered to meet with the various committees to disclose its location if they were interested.

Other than that he still preferred the present high school site.

It was at this point in the proceedings that Mrs. David Holbrook of Church Street moved the question to cut off debate and vote. Her motion was carried by a standing vote of 375 to 45.

Summation time was given to the School Committee during which Supt. Pierce repeated the statement of Mrs. Hooper that the Allen property had the same site conditions as the Roberts Estate, and that he felt most people realized the need for additional facilities and soon.

Taking up the balance of the summation time was Arnold Lanni of the School Committee.

"You've heard a lot of rhetoric and facts, now you have to pick the facts from the rhetoric," he said. "If you can get the Agriculture Service to come in here and say 'Here's a site that doesn't require sewer work,' I'll eat my hat."

Town Moderator, John Callan then called for a standing vote, and the Roberts Estate was rejected as a school site by a wide margin of 359 to 61.

A motion from the floor to reconsider the article was likewise defeated.

Article Three which would permit the drawing up of preliminary plans and architectural fees for the new high school was passed over on a recommendation of the Finance Committee.

More than 100 voters left the gym following the vote on Article Two.

Prior to the high school debate the Town voted vocally for the passage of Article One for Wilmington's participation in a Regional Drug Abuse Control Program in conjunction with Lowell and other Greater Lowell Towns.

The program called "Share" involves nine drop-in centers and a half-way house in Lowell known as Anabasis, as well as the co-operation of all three Lowell Hospitals. The purpose of the program is to provide drug education, prevention and treatment, as well as a referral service, job counseling, group dynamics, court and police liaison, hot-lines and emergency medical treatment.

The Central Administration Unit in Lowell, under the direction of Dr. Paul Strudler of the Solomon Mental Health Center, administers the program, keeps records, evaluates individuals, and operates the community education program.

As proposed by Chairman Bruce MacDonald of the Board of Selectmen, Wilmington's share of the expense would be $8,200. This figure was approved by the Finance Committee.

Speaking on behalf of the program were Les White of the Drug Committee, and Dr. Strudler of Lowell.

White related how the committee had set out to answer two questions, one being whether or not Wilmington had a drug problem. Determining that there was led to the second question of how to deal with it. This in turn led to discussions with other towns and the resulting regional program, "Share."

He noted that five other communities have already signed up for the program.

Dr. Strudler stated that the program presently handles 35 cases per week and the number is escalating. Services involve inpatient and out-patient clinics at the hospitals and half-way house, rehabilitation and counseling. He called Anabasis "a self-help program."

An amendment to the article was proposed by Chris Bachman and passed by the Town which would "provide such participation on a yearly basis."

The amendment was favored by the Finance Committee and Harold McKelvey of Border Ave.

This would protect the Town in case it ever decided to drop out of the program, and means that the funds for the program will be voted on each year.

The motion was voted on after 30 minutes of discussion and passed as amended.

Likewise passed following a short discussion was Article Four for the transfer of $1000 from available funds for plans for an addition to the police station, at the request of the Chief of Police and the Permanent Building Committee.

Speaking in favor of the article was Selectman James Banda who said he thought the addition was due.

Opposed to the motion was W. J. Belbin of 5 Morse Ave., who called it "outrageous" and said that there were "plenty of people in Town who could do it for less."

Town Manager Sterling Morris explained that the money was for architect's plans as required by state law.

The Finance Committee recommended the passage of this article and Richard Barry of the Finance Committee suggested that a committee member be involved in the planning.

The motion was carried by a voice vote.

Another hour-long debate preceded the passage of Article Five for High Density Zoning, submitted by the Planning Board at the request of the Board of Selectmen.

Chairman Harry Stewart Jr. read the Finance Committee report on the article saying the committee disapproved of it.

To this Dan Gillis of the Planning Board replied that no members of the Finance Committee had attended either the HDZ hearing or Planning Board meetings when the article was discussed and amended.

Selectman James Banda spoke in favor of the proposal and explained that the Selectmen had turned down "numerous requests and applications for drive-in restaurants" on technicalities since "the by-laws say they (drive-ins) can come in, file land plans, building plans, parking plans, and file for a license" and the Board has little recourse to halt them.

He said the Selectmen are receiving more requests all the Well. Now. Hello There...and this really will be something this week on account of we have a real collection from the chaos of the last two weeks...and away we go...

Henry. one of our favorite people came forth with some Words of Wisdom this week...A free country is the place where you can do as you wish as long as it pleases your wife... Now. how about that one. Fellas...

December 11 means Donkey Basketball at the High School and is that one ever a sketch to watch...Got it on your calendar?

The WHS Ski Club will feature Hugo Helmer the International Ski Instructor at their Ski Night where there will be Door Prizes Movies and a Swap Shop...Get downthere kids on December 4 at 8 pm at the High School Auditorium for a fee of fifty cents and see all...and swap your gear that's too small or too slow...now we're getting where it's at...

And this Chick would certainly like to Be in Carolina in the Morning...that is if she could have that half-hour!

Seems like Mrs Raymond Jackson did leave two films at the Drug store in the Plaza in July and forgot them...and then from some ad in the paper someone picked them up by mistake These were super 8 movie films and of her daughter's wedding shower and of President Roosevelt's Summer Home...and she would like very much for you to call her if you have same... Residence is on Bond Street

Hey. Doll. is it time?

Now. that Boutwell School Group is really on the Ball...from this and other ideas...they put all heads together...and those kids are making Christmas Cards to send overseas...to our fellas...according to Principal Mary Driscoll's phone call...and that makes this Chick feel just great and our fellas certainly do appreciate your folks and all the thinking that is going on...so Go to it. Gang. and all I can say with the lump in my throat is 'Thanks'

Cracie Baldwin tells us that St Dorothy's Christmas Fair is scheduled at the church hall on Nove 28 - that's next Saturday from 11 am to 6 pm and they promise all sorts of things like ceramics. aprons. baked goods. candy. special crafts. knitted articles. white elephants and a snack bar with gifts on drawings...and we equipped the small fry with mittens from that Methodist fair. so we'll now meander down to St Dot's and what will we find for the big fry - mittens we hope...Found a long time ago when those large Mohicans were small that there was nothing like home made mittens for warmth in the ice puddles...and that it was easier to buy all this Gal could find at the church fairs that would fit than it was to go get the stuff and knit same...So there you go. Gals.

Did you know that...Roy Case of 20 Sheridan Road is now a member of the YMC Recreational Center...and Men's Basketball League is starting at the YMCA in Woburn on Tuesdays and Thursdays...Call Ken Turpin at 935-3270 if interested...

The CYO is distributing 'Ski the East' a book every Skier in this area should have and you can get them from Tom and Bill McGinley by calling 658-3550 and 658-4665...Here's your chance. Kids. for whatever it costs for the book there'll be much more saved cause it tells you where to stay what to do and it gives you 25 free ski passes and half price on lessons and rentals for lodgings and meals A unique discount package that one...So. get to those phones now. there. Skiers!

Hey. now...this is probably a first for Wilmington...Sandra Montello of 13 Phillips Ave and Rosemary Hays of Lexington won a Fix-a-Pinto-Pronto competition. Eight Boston housewives in teams of two competed for minor repair work to the Pinto and running against a cloce, the women removed and replaced windshield wipers. spark plugs. headlamps and taillights...and Sandra is likely the first woman mechanic in Willie...Hmmm...wonder if they run those contest for Washing Machines...then that would be something...If there's any one ability that was forgotten when they made the mould for this Chick...it certainly was mechanics...Oivay!

Hear that Dr Gerry Davis was off again to another symposium on vision at the New York Hilton...sponsored by the Optometric Center of New York... This is a nonprofit teaching clinic and research institution in the visual sciences and we assume the the doc was being taught how to teach on his new job... Was that it Gerry...and we do hope that you had fun too...

Bev Runnals. daughter of Mr and Mrs Richard Runnals of 520 Woburn St is a member of Sigma Theta Chi and the womens clum on the campus at Southern Missionary College in College-dale Tennessee...Congratulations Bev.

Now the Boys...Pfc John F Cowan 114 Nichols St is on duty with the Marine Forces in Vietnam... Navy Constr. Paul Ryan is with Naval Mobile Constructin Battalion 133 on the Island of Guam Corporal Carey Harris of 36 Marion St is now on duty at the Marine Corps Base at Cherry Point...Petty Officer Donald Smalley of 29 Auburn Ave is also with Bat 133 on Guam... This temporary camp will serve as a forward home base for the Seabees in the Pacific.

Sgt Ralph DeLisle Jr is now at Box 1188 CMR 1 Langley AFB Virginia 23365...and Sandy was married last April 11th and is now 1st Lt Sandra A Chavez 15332 Perris Boulevard, Sunny-mead. California...Congratulations there Sandy.

John Cowan of 114 Nichols St got promoted in a hurry hear...he is now Marine Lance Corporal and reported for duty at Headquarters and Service Battalion. Force Logistic Command. Danang. Vietnam.

That Hammond Castle is now going strong in adult education Needlecraft Class will start on Dec 2 at 2 pm. where needle point. knitting. or crocheting will be under direction of Jae Bocken patterns will be supplied for a scarf and hat set...Bring 2 colors of worsted yarn and No 9 sock needles regular. and for thehat number 6 sock needles long... For needlepoint...bring your yarn needles and materials...Instructions will be 2 to 4 pm on Wednesdays and registration can be made by phone 283-2080.

Say. this Chick was honored with the invitation to see the Playskool last week...and absolutely thrilled with what those Gals are doing on a volunteer basis...Visiting with this Gal were Allen Tadgell the Rev at the Congo Church. and Parker Prindle. Chrmn of the Pru. Com there; Willis Miller. Rev at the Meth Church and Ken Zucker the REC Director for Town and this Gal...Well...what a revelation to see what those Chicks could do with practically nothing to work with...and what shiny happy kids...Wow are we proud of that Group...and Walter Pierce and our new asst Supt Derek Little came to the Methodist sessions with their fountains of knowledge and made suggestions and took a few notes and you can see Derek's gears working on that one already... Congratulations to Harleen Putnam and her gals...Joan Ballarino. Lorraine Pellerin. Geri Santos. Marge Lux. Janet Dewire. Charlotte Atamian. Joan Forestaire. Pauline Carlson. Barbie Larson. Sandy Cosman. Marcie Quandt. Bobbie Davis. Bev Fuller. Lynne Allard. and the coffee...No kidding. if you get the opportunity. do drop in to either the Methodist Church or the Congregational Church on Tuesday or Thursday am and see what these Gals are doing...AND...you boys of the service clubs...don't forget...you'll be getting letters from this Chick shortly for donations for her pet project...and this is it this year...so don't spend her allotment on something elses this Christmas...will ya now?

A birdie says that Tess and Arthur Cody of Carter Lane received congratulations on Sunday for their 25th anniversary Hearsay says that there have been 8000 tickets sold for the hs game...Wonder where they are going to put em all...Let them play the game Thanks-giving am...well. now...that will be interesting...and anyway we are rooting...Unfortunately being named the mother of that group we'll probably get stuck with the turkey cooking. but her heart is with you guys...Go. Men. Go...What a team that Coach and the boys have done turned out this year.

Hear that two tearstained five dollar bills passed hands to Lionel and Doris at the North Wil Ph yesterday...because a certain No Wil celebrity did have her wee one...and it wasn't even twins...and that the tears were J E's...and he breaks this Gal all up...and that Dave is getting that Sable Colored Jaguar about which he's been pretty taciturn at 5 pm tonight...and with that he'll probably even beat out Earl who is certainly thinking Snow this month...along with No 1 son...although Earl's is Skiing and No 1 Son is skidoing...and he's the only Kid in all probability who will hav to get stuck with his mother on the Skidoo weekends...cause that's what this Gal asked Santa for for Christmas...a Skidoo Suit so she could heckle that No 1 to death...for the Skidoo Run!

We hear that President Ralph Allen of the Rotaby Club has been notified by Governor Barret Samuels that Archbishop Humberto Medeiros will be speaking as guest of honor for the Rotary Club of Saugus on Thurs. Dec. 10. The meeting will be held at Valley's Steak House at 12 noon. Understand that this is the first time he has made a public appearance that is not church oriented and that he will be visiting with the boys afterwards...members of the Wilmington Rotary and guests have been invited by the Rotary Club of Saugus to be on hand.

Meanwhile when we left the Hut this noon after the ride up from the Vineyard with Nana which spot we left at 7 am...the activity was mounting to High G...with furniture and tables flying...cause we were really lucky to find those members of the Clan for their assignments...C'est la guerre...and Damaged screws can be annoying.

If the screw is part way out, but the screw slot is damaged, you can use a hacksaw to cut a new slot at right angles to the old one.

A narrow-bladed screwdriver can then be used in this new slot and you will be able to back the screw the rest of the way out.

You can also try gripping the outside of the screwhead with a locking-type pliers and use it as a wrench to turn the screw out of it's hole.

It's very annoying when you don't have the proper supplies for fix-up jobs. You'll find a large stock available at A.B. SWEZEY, INC., 615 Main St., 658-2051.

Complete line of hand and portable tools...Hours: 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Daily, 8 a.m. to 9 p.m., Fridays.

No 3 daughter was cleaning... and No 2 daughter had done the shopping...and No 4 daughter was agitating as usual... and the fellas were putting up the tables and counting heads and it looks like we can squeeze them in for another year...but next year...well, this Chick has been threatening a Plymouth Rock Thanksgiving with the turkey on a spit in the yard for some years....She has discovered that she's got the Indians...but we're still in the market for the Pilgrims....So now she's going to leave you and get out that Black Snake and snap it good...and she can already hear them howling 'Slow down, Maaaa...We'll make it.... We always do....and confidentially...they threw this Chick out of the kitchen last year on account of they say they get along better without her....No 1 daughter can work them better than the Ma... and believe you me, her pride isn't hurt....That's the way we like it...we've been working a couple of decades for that one!

Hope you all have as much Fun and Frolic as we're going to have for your Thanksgivings... although we're sad that No 2 has to be gone in Germany.... The first time one of the Clan was missing was last year when he was gone...and there's a hole there....no matter how many are still home with the friends and relatives...but we are ever Thankful that his lot is not Vietnam So...till next week....

Love ya!

He said that work on the card catalog of street names was completed, but he suggested organizing "a new standardized card system with street name, status, location by the tax, map, length of the street, and whether or not accepted and when."

"This would mean, if effect, using a printed form rather than blank cards, so that information on the streets could be added to the form cards as it was received. This would eliminate a lot of confusion, he explained.

Dan Gillis thought it was a good idea, but said he'd prefer the remainder of the assignments were completed before taking on such a project.

Hazam also noted that there are many streets in Town with similar sounding names which ought to be changed, as well as several streets which were cut into two streets by Route 93 but both parts still carry the same name. The Board agreed that these streets required new names and would be worked on for Town Meeting.

The Assistant Planner said work on the Land Use Map had not begun yet.

Also present at the three-hour long meeting was Attorney Joseph Courtney representing Dr. C.A.Rounds.

Dr. Rounds has twice before submitted a subdivision land plan to the Board and had it turned down. The subdivision is planned for an area at the intersection of Woburn and Salem Streets which is zoned Residential.

The plan had last been before the Board a week ago and was turned down because, as Dan Gillis said, it "showed intent to re-subdivide" at some later date.

Courtney said he was confused by the Board's decision.

"Are you questioning the legality of the decision?" asked Mort Grant.

Yes, replied Courtney, because it was his interpretation of the law that "the plan doesn't require approval, only your endorsement."

Plans submitted to the Planning Board may be simply endorsed, indicating that the Board has no objection to them and that they pose no future planning problems, or the plans may require approval if there is some question about the information or layout. The Board had decided at their last meeting that the plan submitted by Dr. Rounds did require approval, on a motion by Dan Gillis, and did not grant it.

Gillis said his concern regarding the plan was based on the possibility that, in signing the subdivision layout which showed room for a possible access road, the Board may be signing for a future re-subdivision without an actual plan.

Courtney assured him the owner had no such intention, but Mort Grant was not satisfied.

"I think the Board should talk with Town Counsel before discussing the matter any further" he said.

Grant further said he thought that the Board should have legal counsel present whenever a lawyer representing a client came to the Board to contest a decision.

The plan was finally tabled pending discussion with Town Counsel Alan Altman.

Other plans were submitted by Town Engineer Arthur Harding for a sewer easement along the Boston and Maine Railroad off Woburn Street to Eames Street.

The land to be taken is owned by Edward and Helen Whitney and the Stevens Family Trust, and is all zoned Industrial.

The sewer line is part of the Silver Lake Interceptor and will connect with future sewer lines for the Woburn Street Relocation.

The Planning Board decided the plans did not require approval, and were endorsed.

Another plan for land was submitted for Angelo Petrosino of 10 Main Street for three lots between Main and Dewey Streets, two having 10,000 square feet and one with 16,000 square feet. This plan was also endorsed by the Board.

Secretary of the Board Grant read a letter from Prof. Charles Eliot, consultant, on the Ipswich River Survey and the Flood Control Plan. He expressed concern that surveys of tributaries in Wilmington to the Ipswich River may require the attention of the Planning Board as well as other Town officials and committees.

According to the letter, three brooks in Town, Lubbers, Mill and Maple Meadow are being studied in line with the Flood Control Plan.

The Board decided to invite Town Manager, Selectmen, Conservation Commission and others to the next meeting to discuss the survey.

A proposal to get high school students involved in Town Government was made by Dan Gillis.

He suggested having two Junior or Senior-year students attend the Board meetings for a period of three months so they could learn about the "dog work" that goes on behind the scenes. He pointed out that young people are becoming more aware of government and politics, and thought that by getting them more involved in the workings of the Town they'd be better equipped to either accept or reject the "system".

Besides, he said, "it could revitalize our government."

The Board agreed it was a good idea and Gillis volunteered to contact Supt. of Schools Walter Pierce to implement the plan.

In Front, L to R: Karen Lesnik, Diane Wentworth, Joan Cuoco, Janet Sullivan and Terry Kracinski. Rear: Michele Elia, Kathy Hyland, Sandy Hyland, Sandy Jaeschke, Loren Hancox, Martha Poloian, Linda Place and Peg Vayo.

Miss Dawn Sharon Gamlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gamlin of Reading Ave. became the bride of Stephen Forest Henderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Santo of Beacon St., on Saturday, Nov. 7 at the Wilmington Methodist Church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Willis Miller at 11:00 a.m.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at The Branding Iron, Main St., Tewksbury.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a gown of French designed Scaloped Chantilace. Her high collar and the edge of her puff sleeves were trimmed with ruffles. Her bouffant skirt was made of numerous tiers of lace and ended in a full chapel train which was bustled for the reception. Her Bouffant silk illusion veil fell from a matching jeweled lace cap.

She carried a bouquet of white orchids with white satin ribbons as streamers and white English ivy. Her going away corsage of one orchid was taken from the bouquet.

Louise Cain of Billerica, sister of the groom served as maid-of-honor. Her a-line gown was of Candy chiffon and Venise lace. Lace accented the bodice and the empire waistline. The cuffs of the puff sleeves were also trimmed with lace. Her matching headpiece was attached to a bouffant veil. She carried a cascade of turquoise carnations with hot pink and turquoise streamers.

Serving as bridesmaids were: Donna Elworthy of Lawrence, a friend of the bride; Nancy MacNeill of Westford, a cousin of the bride; Karen Gamlin, Susan Gamlin and Robin Gamlin of Wilmington, sisters of the bride.

The bridesmaids were gowned identically to the maid-of-honor in the color of countess.

they carried bouquets of hot pink carnations with turquoise and hot pink streamers.

Edward Cain of Billerica, brother of the groom served as best man while ushering duties were in charge of: Richard Elworthy of Lawrence, Mark Comeau of Tewksbury, Buddy Gordorn of Tewksbury and Chuck Horton of Tewksbury, all close friends of the groom.

Joel Beaupre of Wilmington acted as ring bearer.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Gamlin chose a hot pink linen dress and coat ensemble with embroidered front and high necked collar. She wore matching pink accessories.

The mother of the groom was attired in a turquoise linen dress and coat ensemble with matching blue accessories.

The new Mrs. Henderson is a graduate of Wilmington High School. Mr. Henderson was also educated in Wilmington.

Following a wedding trip to Cove Haven, Poconos, Lakeville, Penn., the couple will reside at 260 East Haverhill St., Lawrence.

of Alencon Lace, English Net, and Peau-de-soie embroidered with seed pearls. A Camelot cap, adorned with scalloped matching lace and pearls held her silk illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of white stephanotis, sweetheart roses and carnations.

The Matron-of-Honor was sister of the bride, Constance Maginnis. She wore a raspberry pink gown of chiffon with softly gathered skirt, bishop sleeves and peter pan collar, featuring a ruby colored bodice. Her bouquet was similar to the bride's with stephanotis entwined.

Serving as bridesmaids were: Linda Blomerth, sister-in-law of the bride, Christine Colson, cousin of the bride and Carolyn Simmons, and Nancy Sullivan, close friends of the bride.

The bridesmaids wore gowns styled like that of the Matron-of-Honor, featuring a bolero effect bodice of crimson cut-velvet.

Rebecca Blomerth, neice of the bride acted as flower girl in a gown of the same style and color as that of the Matron-of-Honor.

David Maglio, brother of the groom served as best. Ushers included: Don Blomerth, brother

INSURANCE INSIGHTS

By Lloyd Bender

AUTO INSURANCE AND THE MASS. ECONOMY

The upshot of all this Mass. auto insurance dilemma is that several of the major insurance companies have told the Governor that under an across-the-board 15% reduction they cannot continue to do business in the Commonwealth. If this happens the remaining insurance companies will be forced to leave too. They could not possibly absorb the business left by the others and particularly the so-called Assigned risk business.

Think of the effect on the already sagging Mass. economy: 60,000 people out of a job.... 60,000 salaries no longer being pumped into our Mass. economy.

Taxes on premiums now being paid by insurance companies doing Mass. auto business amount to $37,000,000.

While the renowned economist, Paul Samuelson does not forecast a national depression in the years ahead, Mass. could easily slide into the deepest recession you and I have ever seen.

These losses in state revenue will have to be made-up somewhere and most of us are by now painfully aware of whose ox is going to be gored then.... Perhaps even more hairy is the problem of attracting new industry to Mass. or the expansion of our existing Mass. firms. With the taxes we already have and the increase that could result from a $37,000,000 loss in revenue we're going to be in sorry shape indeed.

WATCH NEXT WEEK FOR Insurance Origins

Lloyd would welcome comments and questions on his column, but this week you might write the Governor and your favorite newspaper.

time and that such establishments are leading to traffic problems. He stressed the need for changes in the zoning by-laws.

James Vitale of Cedarcrest Rd. took the microphone to say that the area along Route 38 was not in his opinion in need of High Density Zoning, but that the area along Route 125 was definitely a HDZ project.

After Vitale's speech, the Finance Committee, on a motion by Chris Bachman, took a quick vote on the amended Article Five. The results were split, four in favor and four opposed, with one abstention. The vote taken last week on the original article was opposed five to three.

Mrs. William Redler of Lake Street questioned the purpose and intent of the article asking if it was in fact discriminatory. She said "there's good and bad discrimination" and wanted to know who the proposed article was discriminating against and why.

Selectman Carl Bachman Jr. explained that the article was based on a play employed in Burlington which he referred to as "overlay zoning", but he said the plan there wasn't working out as well as expected because it was too broad.

Bringing the argument back home, Backman said "You've seen what's happened to Main Street.....they just keep on coming."

He also repeated the major factor in HDZ which is giving the control back to the voters in matters relating to business usage in HDZ.

"It gives you the responsibility of evaluating businesses coming into the area and voting on them at open Town Meetings. The Town is long overdue in getting this kind of protection built into the zoning laws," he added.

Rocco DePasquale, of Rocco's Restaurant, Main St., thought the article was too complicated and encompassing.

"If you don't want more gas stations in Town, just say so in the by-laws. If you don't want drive-ins, say 'no consumption of food in cars in restaurant parking lots', and that will take care of it."

Attorney Philip Buzzell of Salem Street said that the measure would be "penalizing present businesses" by making them non-conforming.

To Roland Wood of Frederick Drive the article was too drastic. It was like "cutting off an arm for an injured finger, when the finger can be treated," he said.

Attorney Joseph Courtney then came to the microphone to air his opinions on the article.

"In principle I'm in agreement with what the Planning Board and the Selectmen are trying to do, but I think it should be noted that existing businesses would have to go to the Board of Appeals to expand, and this could create difficulties. There is no provision for non-conformant lots in the zoning by-laws," he said.

Courtney also said that "applying HDZ to zoning maps will probably result in spot zoning."

He felt that the "worst problem is putting it into Town Meeting" because "I've seen many Town Meetings and some of them have been stacked."

A motion from the floor to close debate was carried by a vote of 207 to 11.

In summation Dan Gillis stated,

"We're trying to prevent situations such as on Route One, or closer still, Route 38 across 495." He further said that Town Counsel, Alan Altman has declared the articles legal, but they could be tested in court if necessary.

Selectman Backman explained that the articles are complicated out of necessity to prevent what happened in Burlington happening here, and Selectman Banda agreed and asked support for the measure.

a standing vote was taken at 4:15 p.m. and the motion passed with 184 in favor and 48 opposed.

Once the main HDZ article was approved, the other related articles passed relatively easily with a minimum of discussion. Articles Seven and Nine had little more difficulty in getting through.

Article Seven was discussed by Rocco DePasquale, who repeated his earlier argument, and suggested that the article include alcoholic as well as non-alcoholic beverages, so kids couldn't drink beer in parking lots of present pizza or hamburger places.

Rocco told the Town Meeting that, to distinguish between a Drive-In Restaurant, and a regular restaurant, a by-law which prohibited the consumption of food and beverages in a parking lot should be the answer. This would protect the business men from people who were using their parking lots on the pretence of buying food, but really as a place to drink alcoholic beverages.

Madelyn McKie of the Planning Board explained that drive-in restaurants were defined in Article Six and that Article Seven was to include drive-ins in HDZ.

The vote on the article passed 159 to 12 with all members of committees in favor with the exception of James Tighe of the Finance Committee.

Article Nine was explained by Chairman Bill Hooper as "what we'd like to see for a minimal lot size the original by-laws have only 30 feet, we propose 200 feet for buildings and parking."

Stan Webber thought that this would make all existing buildings not meeting those requirements non-conforming which would create hardships.

Mrs. McKie responded that the owner could go to the Board of Appeals the same as now.

The motion carried with a vote of 127 in favor and six opposed.

At 4:55 the quorum was questioned from the floor and a head count was taken with the results being established as 166 voters. Town Moderator Callan noted that 150 voters were necessary for a quorum, and that number being present, he continued the meeting.

A motion from the Finance Committee was heard to hear Article 25 for the heating of the highway garage before continuing with the HDZ articles.

Town Manager Sterling Morris had asked for $10,200 for the purchase and installation of a new heating system in the garage. The Finance Committee approved all but $200. of that amount.

Morris then said that the highway department would install the system itself and that the money appropriated would be for materials only. "It'll be a slower but somewhat cheaper project by using our own forces", he explained.

The motion was passed by a voice vote and the meeting returned to the Planning Board articles.

Article Ten was passed over on a motion by Selectman MacDonald and the reason for this was given by Alan Altman who said it was to protect the provisions won from the Board of Appeals by the Sons of Italy.

The vote to pass over this article was 137 for and 14 against.

A motion from the floor to reconsider the motion was defeated by voice vote.

Articles 11 through 15 were called "housekeeping articles" and with the support of the Finance Committee, all were passed.

These were written, mainly to take out those businesses presently in other zoning classifications so as to permit them under Article Seven in HDZ.

Articles 16 and 17 were approved by voice vote.

An amendment to Article 18 to delete the section on permit fees for swimming pools by Ralph Zwicker of Davis Road was defeated by voice vote and the motion on building permit fees was passed, also by voice vote.

RALPH ZWICKER: Thought it unfair to charge someone a $10 fee if he were putting in a $30 swimming pool. The Town Meeting didn't agree with Ralph.

Stan Webber had objected to the motion saying it was useless since with the high rate of unemployment no one would be building now.

For the second time the quorum was questioned but a head count showed 159 voters at 5:40 p.m.

Articles 19 and 20 were passed by voice vote, these being more housekeeping articles.

Selectman Banda spoke in favor of the passage of Article 21 for the return to Wales Company, Brewster Lumber, of money amounting to $26,350.70 for taxes collected illegally by the Town on personal property. Banda explained that only the Commonwealth could levy taxes on personal property of a foreign company and said "we shouldn't have billed them in the first place."

The article, approved by the Finance Committee, passed on a voice vote.

Approval was gained from the Town for Article 22 to accept as a gift land commonly known as a gravel pit on Andover Street.

Sterling Morris was questioned on the land by Mrs. Verence Hensley who asked "Does this mean the Town will be responsible for making this land presentable?"

Morris didn't hear the question saying "Feedback ... couldn't hear," in reference to the public address system which acted up from time to time during the course of the meeting. The question was repeated.

"The Town is responsible for all Town land," was his answer.

Joe Courtney asked what the Town intended to with the land, and Morris replied that it could be used for street widening.

The article was passed on a voice vote. It should be noted that most of the votes taken following the second quorum question were voice votes, with the exception of Article 23.

Wildcats Win the Big One

The MVC champion Wildcats concluded its season today with a 13-3 win over arch-rival Tewksbury this morning in a penalty filled game. Coach Bellissimo's eleven marched 64 yards in four plays following the opening kickoff to electrify the overflow crowd of some 10,000 fans.

Mark Jepson returned Bradley's short kick nine yards from the 27 to the Wilmington 36, setting the Wildcats up in good field position. On the first play from scrimmage, Mike Esposito took a quick pitch from Bil Gustus and swept leftend for 21 yards to the Redman 43.

A pair of short runs by Espo and Dick Gillis moved the ball to the 40 where the conference champs were faced with a 3rd and 7 situation. On the third down play Gustus hit Rick Smallidge with a forty yard scoring play with Rick receiving the ball on the twenty and racing down the far sideline for the score. Esposito's kick was perfect and the Wildcats led 7-0 with only 1:13 gone in the ball game.

Tewksbury was unable to move the ball on the ensuing set of downs and the Wildcats took over at mid field following Wilkie's 31 yard punt. A pair of penalties, the beginning of many, moved the ball back to the Wilmington 30 where the Wildcats were unable to move the ball and Esposito punted to Quinn at the Redman 35.

A return of 13 yards set Tewksbury up in good field position at their own 48. In twelve plays the Redmen moved to the Wilmington one, aided by a pair of pass interference penalties by Wilmington. The Wildcats were also called for off side twice. The defense led by George Anderson, Bill DeLisle, Bob Gillis and Rick Smallidge stopped the Redmen at the four.

On a fourth down play Stotik booted a 22 yard field goal and at 7:39 of the period, Wilmington led, 7-3.

Following an exchange of punts the Wildcats took over at the Redman 43 early in the second period. The varsity struck again, this time in four plays and a commanding lead. Capt. Gillis carried twice in the drive 3 and 22 yards respectively and Esposito twice, 14 and 4 yards for the touchdown.

Gillis' excellent run from the 26 to the 4 set the stage for Espo's record-breaking touchdown and a new one-season scoring record. The placement by Esposito was booted wide and a 2:05 of the period Wilmington led, 13-3.

Neither team was able to move the ball with any consistency during the remaining eight minutes of the period as each team punted once and each quarterback had a pass intercepted, thus the long first half ended with the Wildcats being penalized for 80 yards in addition to the pair of pass interference calls. Whereas, Tewksbury was penalized only once, for 15 yards.

The Redmen took the second half kickoff from their own 31 following Ferrante's return of 22 yards. Aided by three Wilmington off-side penalties Tewksbury marched to the Wildcat's 2 yard line in twelve plays before the front five of Gillis, DeLisle, Curran, Rounds and Severin stopped the Redmen Drive.

A big 69 yard pass and run play Gustus to Irwin was nullified by another penalty and the Wildcats were forced to punt out from their own 5. Steve Coursey intercepted an errant Casey aerial on the second play following Esposito's punt. But the Wildcats were unable to move the ball and Esposito punted out from the Wilmington 20. A clipping penalty against the Redmen on the punt return pushed Tewksbury back to their own 33. Neither team was able to do much in the second half as most of it was spent in the Redmen Territory.

Capt. Gillis halted a Tewksbury drive at the Wilmington 29 with a fumble recovery early in the fourth frame and the Wildcats moved to the Redman 37 where an errant Gustus aerial was picked off at the 12 yard line.

Late in the game a pair of successive losses by Casey pushed Tewksbury into their own territory as Anderson dropped the Redman quarterback for a pair of successive nine yard losses. On a fourth and 19 situation from the Tewksbury 40 Esposito intercepted a Casey to Stotik pass at the Wilmington 20. The Wildcats ran the clock out to gain their ninth season win for a Perfect Record! Points After....The officiating internally took the ball game away from the boys in this game, both clubs were hurt for that matter. Wilmington was penalized for over 150 yards compared to Tewksbury's 75. Esposito concluded his high school career with 471 poings and many records. The win set a new MVC record, most wins in the conference. Co-captain Dick Gillis ran very well in the game netting 86 yards in 12 carries. Espo was 97 in 20 tries. Gustus hit on 6 or 14 passes for 88 yards, but was intercepted twice.

DIAMOND FACTS

When buying your diamond remember certain facts. The more perfect it is - the more it costs per carat. Not only the stone you are purchasing must be considered. Also involved is the stone from which your diamond was cut. The original gem was larger. Portions had to be disregarded. This was necessary to produce, from the original, the best possible gem.

Your diamond's perfection exists because careful planning created it. Experts studied the stone before deciding on proper cleavage. They eliminated flaws. Your precious gem would have been less valuable. You could have had less brilliance and more weight. Instead, you have the best cutter's skill could deliver.

The price per carat depends upon the level of perfection. Flawless beauty assures you of perpetual value. Buy the best diamond you can. You'll never regret it.

Today's game against Tewksbury was with the largest crowd ever, estimated at nearly 10,000. While the Wilmington High School Band played the Star Spangled Banner, (in center), former football coach Charlie Hazen of Tewksbury added a new note, by borrowing the Tewksbury Tree Department Sky Worker, so he could take movies of the football game.

MERRIMAC VALLEY WINNERS: Coach Fred Bellissimo of Wilmington with Co-Capt. Dick Gillis (left) and Mike Esposito. Thursday's win over Tewksbury marked the fifth time that the Wilmington High School squad has been the MVC. In the 1970 season the team won every game, being both unbeaten and untied.

TWO OF THE OUTSTANDING PLAYERS: Of the 1970 Football Squad were Mike Curran (Left) and Billy Delisle.

Below are two more outstanding players: Quarterback Gustus, who made 15 TD passes, and Defense Lineman George Anderson.

TOWN MEETING (From Page Ten)

This article would permit the Town to take land from the front yard of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Ingemi of Bridge Lane to be used for a drainage system. The transfer of $500 for the easement had been approved by the Finance Committee.

Mrs. Ingemi was present to question the proposal and ask why the Town had decided to use her front and side yard.

"Why my land?" she asked.

Mary Ingemi of Bridge Lane, took on the Town Hall, and won, when she defeated the proposal to put a drain in over her land. The big trouble seemed to be that no one had talked with her about the proposal, and the Town Meeting will never vote for anything that will hurt a voter individually.

"They could go through my neighbor's back yard, but they're going through my front yard because it's cheaper."

The drain easement is part of the project being developed to relieve flooding and drainage in the Bridge Land - Richmond Street area.

John Brooks, chairman of the School Committee, asked the Town Manager if the woman had any recourse, to which Morris replied "No, it's just like taking a school site, Mr. Brooks."

"I think she should know she has recourse through the courts," Brooks replied.

Town Counsel Altman agreed that "she has the right to petition the Superior Court on the basis of land damages."

But a court case doesn't seem likely right now since the voters turned down the article by a standing vote of 85 opposed and 31 in favor.

Article 24 was for the purchase of a new street sweeper, for as Morris noted, "our present sweeper is down more frequently than it's operated. We'd have a sweeper ready to go in the spring if we order it now," he added.

The passage of Article 26 gave the Town permission to have a survey conducted of the land now owned by the Town adjacent to the present dump. The Finance Committee approved of expending $5000 for the project.

Morris said that the land, once clearly bounded, could be used for a Town dump should the cost of the private dump become too great.

Article 28 was for increasing the Veteran's Aid Account, which is necessary due to the number of unemployed veterans.

There was a good deal of debate over Article 27 which would rezone land owned by Felice and Lucille Grossi on Main Street at the Woburn city line, from Residential to General Business. The article was finally passed over, on motion of Chuck Mather of the Finance Committee.

The problems began when Attorney Michael Gatta of Woburn representing the Grossis, tried to present the article. Moderator Callan advised him that as a non-resident he could not present the motion.

After a quick discussion between Gatta, Callan and Counsel Altman, the latter agreed to present the motion for Gatta, and to permit Gatta to speak on behalf of his clients.

The article to rezone the land had been disapproved by both the Finance Committee and the Planning Board.

Gatta argued that there were many misconceptions about spot zoning, one of the arguments against the motion, and said that the courts adhere to the characteristics of the neighborhood. In this case, the neighborhood includes the land on the other side of the town line which is zoned Industrial.

"Who wants to build a residence in an area like that?" asked Gatta.

Miss Shannon M. O'Toole, of 3 Charlotte Road North Wilmington, shown on her horse 'Shannon's Pride' at a recent horse show sponsored by the Andover Riding Academy in Andover.

Shannon, who is a student at the North Intermediate School, was adjudged one of the top riders of the day by virtue of her winning three trophies and six award ribbons during the day-long competition.

DONKEY BASKETBALL

America's craziest and most unpredictable sport - Donkey Basketball will be featured at the High School Gym. at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, Dec. 11. The teams will be made up of faculty and students.

Shaw Bros. bring their combination of circus atmosphere and rodeo thrills to town for the benefit of the Student Council.

The old saying, "stubborn as a mule", will be exemplified when the local boys match wits with the donkeys. The odds are that in most cases the donkeys will

"B" TEAM WINS CROWN

The Wilmington Chargers "B" squad concluded its season on Wednesday Nov. 11 with a 42-0 rout of Watertown to clinch first place in the Middlesex League, Class B Division.

Coach Lawrenson's eleven finished with an overall 9-0-1 record. 7-0-1 in league play. Bob Aprile ran the opening kickoff back for a touchdown the Chargers final game to pace the league leaders. The defensive unit spearheaded by linebackers, Larry Cushing and Bob Sferrazza along with linemen, Kevin Hurley, Jimmy Tucker, Ronnie Martin, Jim Burke, Jim Stewart and Paul Bovitz did not allow Watertown a first down in the entire ball game. Offensive center, Tommy Tower played another excellent game up front for the Chargers to continue his fine play all season.

The "A" team edged Watertown in last week's feature game, 16-14 to conclude their regular season of play with a 5-4-1 record. Carl Butler and John Moran each scored a touchdown to pace Coach Barry's New York bound eleven in their final home appearance.

The Chargers will play Staten Island's Scotties Sports Shop at Hy Turkin Field in the 13th annual Statue of Liberty Bowl game Saturday afternoon. Kickoff is listed for 1:30 p.m. Scotties is sporting a 6-0-2 record going into the game with the Chargers.

The players will leave by bus late this afternoon arriving in New York around 9 o'clock tonight. Tomorrow morning the Wilmington boys will go on a tour of New York City. The boys will be guests of the parents of the host team during their stay in Staten Island.

Saturday evening the Awards Dinner will take place at a local restaurant and the boys will return home early Sunday evening.

KNOW THE RESTRICTIONS

"The big fortunes of the future will be made in real estate." - John D. Rockefeller.

The price of real estate in the United States reflects what buyers are willing to pay. It also reflects the history of nearly two centuries of free enterprise. Ours is a government pledged to defend and perpetuate the right of private ownership of property, both real and personal. This is the hidden guarantee in every real estate deed.

Property, like liberty is usually thought to be strictly one's own. However, it is not immune from regulation essential for the common good.

Thus, easements are granted for streets, roads, and public utility lines. Zoning restrictions are on your property before you sign any papers.
